POEM - You'll Find Me in the Garden

by Nicola, Nathan and Connor

*You'll find me in the garden, amongst the plants and birds,
Where leaves of green surround me and tweeting can be heard.*

*The sun & rain work hand in hand to help the flowers bloom,
Not unlike the flowers that you'll find around us in this room.*

I lived a life of many years, planting seeds & handling shears,

*Making sure my guests were welcomed with bursts of beautiful colour,
I was a gardener, a friend, a grandma, a wife & a mother.*

*Each step out of the house, a wonder for the senses,
A floral smell & an array of colour in terracotta vases,*

*Yellow daffodils, white carnations & roses blooming red.
Now feeling accomplished & at peace, I can finally rest my head.*

*The gentle Robin signifies a spiritual passing of a loved one,
They always appear more often than not when you really need them,*

*You'll find me in the garden, amongst the plants and birds,
Where leaves of green surround me and tweeting can be heard.*
