TINY FOOTPRINTS

Read by Peter O'Hara

These are my tiny footprints so perfect and so small,
These tiny footprints never touched the ground at all.
Not one tiny footprint, for now I have wings.
These tiny footprints were meant for other things.

You will hear my tiny footprints in the patter of the rain.
Gentle drops like angel tears of joy and not from pain.
You will see my tiny footprints in each butterfly's graceful dance.
I will let you know I'm with you if you just give me a chance.

Even though I'm gone right now, We will never be apart.
Because I have left tiny footprints safe within your heart.

LITTLE SNOWDROP

Read by Caroline Evans

The world may never notice,
If a Snowdrop doesn't bloom,
Or even pause to wonder
If the petals fall too soon.

But every life that ever forms,
Or ever comes to be,
Touches the world in some small way
For all eternity.

The little one we longed for
Was swiftly here and gone.
But the love that was then planted
Is a light that still shines on.

And though our arms are empty,
Our hearts know what to do.
For every beating of our hearts
Says that we love you.
