I WANT TO BREAK FREE by QUEEN

POEM
Granny

From hand knitted cardigans to cooking lessons we called her granny

There were giggles when stories were told of Gambia, trenching through the muds and praying for safety. Adventurous. That was our granny.

As she reflected on childhood beginnings she laughed at her cheeky behaviour. Remembering a river of thimbles. That was our granny.

There was plenty of holidays; Spain and Galor. There was always a boat trip and a sun tan to remember. That was our granny.

What a granny she was, 8 of us in total. We were spoilt with gifts and words of advice. She shouted Don't be kind we laughed and payed her no mind. That was our granny

*A knickerblockerglory and the pic n mix sweets will be our favourite story. A walk by the new river is where we'll always remember her.
That was our granny*

Christmas was our favourite, with a selection box and a snowball for all. Extra advocate for those big and tall. Don't forget the extra cherries. That was our granny.

For the laughs, the gifts, the memories and wise words. We say thank you Granny
