FIRST READING

Winnie the Poo by A.A Milne, Read by Ali Bruce

'If you live to be a hundred, I want to live to be a hundred minus one day so I never have to live without you.'

Piglet sidled up to Pooh from behind. 'Pooh?' he whispered. "Yes, Piglet?"

'Nothing,' said piglet, taking Pooh's hand. 'I just want to be sure of you'

'We'll be friends forever, won't we, Pooh?' asked Piglet

'Even longer,' Pooh answered. 'If ever there is a tomorrow when we're not together.... there is something you must always remember. You are braver than you believe, stronger than you seem, and smarter than you think. But the most important thing is, even if we're apart... I'll always be with you.'

SECOND READING

Everything I Know About Love by Dolly Alderton, Read by Laura Hau & Millie Khangure

I know that love can be loud and jubilant. It can be dancing in the swampy mud and the pouring rain at a festival and shouting 'YOU ARE AMAZING' over the band.

It's introducing them to your colleagues at a work event and basking in pride as they make people laugh and make you look loveable just by dint of being loved by them. It's laughing until you wheeze. It's walking along a street together on a Saturday night and feeling an entire city is just yours.

It's big, beautiful, ebullient force of nature. I know what it is to feel like you've always got a lighthouse to guide you back to dry land; to feel the warmth of its beam as it squeezes your hand standing next to you at a funeral of someone you loved.

I also know that love is a pretty quiet thing. It's lying on the sofa together, drinking coffee, talking about where you're going to go that morning to drink more coffee. It's folding down pages of books you think they'd find interesting. It's hanging up their laundry when they leave the house having moronically forgotten to take it out of the washing machine. It's the texts, 'Hope today goes well', 'How did today go', 'Thinking of you today', and 'Picked up loo roll'. I know that love happens under the splendour of moon and stars and fireworks and sunsets but it also happens when you're lying on blow up air beds in a childhood bedroom, sitting in A&E, or in the queue for a passport, or in a traffic jam. Love is a quiet, reassuring, relaxing, pottering, pedantic, harmonious hum of a thing; something you can easily forget is there, even though its palms are outstretched beneath you in case you fall
