WELCOME & INTRODUCTION

FOREST

By Rodney Strickland

Read by Sarah Rook

My inner thoughts, my shrouded soul, I wonder where this all will go. The path of life, it twists and turns, sometimes cold and sometimes burns. In the forest deep and clean, my heart surrenders, feels the breeze.

The wind of change is blowing now, embrace this change, and don't let it by. Looking through the forest trees, stumbling in the forest green. Natures live, it will not stop, it adapts to change come may what.

Forest fires, they burn intense, but nature finds a way, a strength. Green shoots they grow from charcoal earth, mother nature only burnt. So as my soul wonders why, take strength and hope, let tears roll by. These inner thoughts, the damaged soul.

The pain, the fire, let it go.

I'll Be There
Author Unknown

There was no time to say goodbye
But this I ask, please do not cry
Remember me, as you think best
The happy time, forget the rest

Look for me and I'll be there
And you will find me everywhere
In the gentle touch of the breeze
That cools the skin or swirls the leaves

In the scent and colour of flowers
That gave to me such happy hours
On sunny days under sunny skies of blue
Just think of me, I'll be with you

In the winter when there's cloud or mist
The rain will give to you my kiss
As wood smoke lingers in the air
Look for me and I'll be there
You'll feel my presence everywhere
