The Lords Prayer

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name.
Thy kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us.
And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.
For thine is the Kingdom, the power and the glory,
for ever and ever, Amen

Prayer For Gig

Poem

Wrote by Michelle Harvey

Take me back to Cyprus
Allow me to return on the winds as they blow
Back to Cyprus, the island I love so
To the hills of green, and the soft white sand
Where my soul is called to, I'm sure you understand
So send me back to the place that I love
Where the Olive groves smile at the blue sky above
Where the ancestors I left, call my name once more I'll return, back to Cyprus, the home I adore.

The Dash

Read by Anthony Kakoulli

I read of a man who stood to speak at the funeral of a friend.

He referred to the dates on his casket from beginning to the end.

He noted that first came the date of his birth, and spoke of the following date with tears, But he said what mattered most of all was the dash between those years.

For that dash represents all the time that he spent alive on earth, and now only those who loved him know what that little line is worth.
For it matters not, how much we own, the cars, the house, the cash, What matters is how we live and love and how we spend our dash.

So think about this long and hard; are there things you would like to change? For you never know how much time is left that can still be rearranged.

If we could just slow down enough to consider what is true and real
And always try to understand the way other people feel.
And be less quick to anger and show appreciation more
And love the people in our lives like we have never loved before.
If we treat each other with respect and more often wear a smile,

Remembering that this special dash might only last a little while.
So when your eulogy is being read, with your life's actions to rehash,
Would you be proud of the things they say, about how you spent your dash?
