Reading
The Soldier

*If I should die, think only this of me:
That there's some corner of a foreign field
That is forever England. There shall be In that rich earth a richer dust concealed;
A dust whom England bore,
shaped, made aware,
Gave, once, her flowers to love,
her ways to roam,*

*A body of England's, breathing English air, Washed by the rivers,
blessed by sons of home.
And think, this heart, all evil shed away,
A pulse in the eternal mind, no less Gives somewhere back the thoughts by*

*England given;
Her sights and sounds;
dreams happy as her day;
And laughter, learnt of friends; and gentleness,
In hearts at peace, under an English heaven.*
