WELCOME AND INTRODUCTION

VERSE

A last Breath by Lou Szymkow

I have breathed my last breath, But don't be vexed, I have finished with this world And moved on to the next

I'll visit you from time to time, Whenever our hearts and memories entwine

So, don't despair at my departure I've just moved on to another pasture, I have no pain, no anguish, no fears, My love for you remains, my dears

So think of me now and again Know that my soul has no end Cry for me if you have to But know that I am always proud of you I would rather that you smile When you think of me every while, I want you to live for me, courageously. Remember the good and the fun, joyously, I love you, you know, But now, it is time to let me go.

Verse

“Mum” by Unknown Author

A mother's love is like no other, A bond that lasts through joy and sorrow. Her gentle touch and warm embrace, Will always hold a special place. Today we say goodbye to one so dear, A loving mum we hold so near. Her smile, her laughter, and her grace, Forever etched upon our face. Her gentle spirit will live on, In every memory and every dawn. Her love will guide us from above, A shining star, a symbol of her love. We'll miss the comfort of her arms, The sound of her laughter, and all her charms. But in our hearts, she'll always be, A source of comfort and serenity. So let us hold her close today, And give thanks for the memories we'll keep. For in our hearts, she'll always stay, Our loving mum, forever in our sleep

THE FAREWELL

CLOSING WORDS

“Afterglow” by Helen Lowrie Marshall

*I'd like the memory of me to be a happy one. I'd like to leave an afterglow of smiles when life is done. I'd like to leave an echo whispering softly down the ways, Of happy times and laughing times and bright and sunny days. I'd like the tears of those who grieve, to dry before the sun; Of happy memories that I leave when life is done
