

Glyn Cunnick

24th April 1946 - 7th December 2023

Welcome to The Glyndig!

Our Dad had been planning his death for almost 30 years!

Those of you who knew him well, would know not a day (sometimes an hour) would pass, where he wouldn't mention his own death!

It was something he had given much consideration to. Therefore it was his wish for no funeral, but he did say we were allowed to celebrate his life at the Golf Club!

So here we are.

Yvonne, Bethanie and I would like to thank you for coming today to celebrate his life, it means a lot to us.

Someone said to me my dad was a man who was "once met, never forgotten" his humour, his laugh, his wit, his ranting.....

We hope you will remember him today, by sharing your anecdotes and stories and please bear in mind, the more outrageous the better!

Dad amongst other things such as golf, rocks, letterboxing, cars, and Formula 1, loved music, particularly if it involved guitars.

So today you will hear a playlist of his favourite songs, many of which were a big part of our childhood, where he would sing and play them, whilst watching us in the bath.

More recently they became part of late nights reminiscing with Yvonne.
