

Jacqueline Marie Maddy

7th August 1962 to 2nd February 2024

Entrance music

Flying without wings

Introduction by Sarah

Shaun to read the eulogy

Karen remembering Jac

Contemplation moments with Jacs second song

Hallelujha

Closing speech from Sarah

Jacs final song

You'll Never Walk Alone

Please remain seated until the song has ended

I would like to thank everybody for coming today

And hope you all remember Jac for the person she was

I truly wonderful, kind and indeed strong woman

She would give you her last Rollo

She would make you laugh when you needed to most

She would tell you where to go if needed

But most of all, she would be there for anyone who needed her

no matter the need she was always

Jac

In loving memory of Jac

No more pain or suffering
No more hurt or strife
No more time of wondering
What is this thing called life

Sleep well my perfect angel
Go easy on your way
I will follow when I'm able
I cant wait until that day

Godnight my one true soulmate
Love you
