A reflection of Tedwards life

Read by Julie Hunter

A Tedward poem - South of yesterday

Read by Jason

Remember south of yesterday when everything was young never a thought was given to life and what may come today is now your future cherish all it brings let it be an adventure Ignore the pretty things it's rather like the seasons summer spring and winter snow all are there for a reason as you will surely know be certain each day is precious memories must never fade address all problems knowing they are only man made
when time was there to borrow how quickly the future passes as we head north of tomorrow

A Tedward poem - Life

Read by Franks

Life's like a jamboree bag you're not sure what you'll get turn right and you're a dustman
one thing that's for certain you live it your own way you may end up in prison or swing the other way but try and make the most of it the alternative ain't that great six feet under in a cask or burning on a grate life is what you make of it of that I'm fairly sure its not like a disease my friend there ain't no easy cure I live my life the best I can I smile with head held tall because I got all five numbers and the bonus ball

A final farewell to Tedward
