Spring Waltz : Chopin

Opening words and welcome by Celebrant Steve Swain

MY SISTERS GARDEN

Read by Jackie's sister Shirley

*Don't think of me as I am today, Gone from you into the endless grey,
of a winter morning, bitter and cold,
The wind sharp and restless, through trees anguished and old.*

*Find me instead in the soft glow of spring, where rain sweetens warm earth, and raucous birds sing.
And me on my knees, a spade in one fist and a plan in my head I just can't resist of a fairytale place made of blooms, twigs and treasures,
or a vegetable patch whose bounty exceeds measure*

So, today shed your tears and hold loved one's tight but don't think of me all alone in the night And don't let your grief and bitterness harden because the next time you see me, I'll be in my garden.

Eulogy

Read by Jackie's daughter Rebecca

Reflection Music

Ballade to the Moon: Daniel Elder

*One moonlit night I wander free, My mind to roam on thoughts of thee,
With midnight darkness beckoning,
My heart toward mystic fantasy.
Come and dream.*

*How beautiful this night in June,
And here upon the velvet dune,
I weep with joy beneath the Moon.*

*The path lies dark before my sight,
And yet my feet with pure delight,
Onward through the blackened vale,
Beneath the starry sky so bright,
Share thy light.*

*These woods their weary wanderer,
Soon in awe and fearful wonder swoon,
I weep with joy beneath the moon.
And as the darkened hours flee,
My heart beats ever rapidly,
Though heavy hang my eyes with sleep,
My singing soul it cries to thee,
Come and sing with me!*

*The twinkling sky casts forth its tune, O must I leave thy charms so soon?
I weep with joy beneath the moon*

Waltz of the Flowers: Tchaikovsky

*In some other life
We are standing Side by side and laughing that,
In some other life*

We are apart
