Poem

Gone but not forgotten by Ellen Brenneman

Gone but not forgotten by Ellen Brenneman

Don't think of her as gone away, her journey's just begun,
Life holds so many facets, this earth is only one.

Just think of her as resting from the sorrows and the tears

In a place of warmth and comfort, where there are no days and years.

Think how she must be wishing, that we could know today

How nothing but our sadness can really pass away.

And think of her as living in the hearts of those she touched

For nothing loved is ever lost, and she was loved so much.

In Loving Memory

Please help us to find strength even as the tears still flow; to find memories that bring smiles, instead of sadness; to find a place where life's blessings are recognised, not just life's struggles. And where joy and peace are present, so that Linda can be remembered with happiness and love, not simply mourned.
