The Symposium

-Plato-

According to Greek mythology, humans were originally created with four arms, four legs and a head with two faces. Fearing their power, Zeus split them into two separate parts, condemning them to spend their lives in search of their other halves.

Love -Apollo-

Love, much like my radiant chariot, illuminates the darkest corners of the soul with its golden warmth.

Please join us afterwards for the Reception at Middlestead House, Selkirk, TD7 5EY
