“All I know is that every time I’ve been faced with a tough decision, there’s only one thing that outweighs every other concern. One thing that will make you give up on everything you thought you knew, every instinct, every rational calculation.

Love.

No matter what happens, you gotta forget about all the other stuff. You gotta forget about logic and fear and doubt. You just gotta do everything you can do get to the one person who’s gonna make all this worth it.”

Jim Halpert
The Office

“and I hope that the love growing between us two is nurtured by all of the days I will spend loving you”
