ADDRESS TO THE COUPLE

DECLARATIONS & PROMISES

Reading - Sarah Bolger

Temporary and Permanent - Nikita Gill

*Most people in your life were only meant for dreams, & summer laughter.
They stay till the wind changes, the tides turn, or disappear with the first snow.*

*And then there are some that were forged to weather blizzards & pain with you.
They were cast in iron, set in gold & never ever leave you to face anything alone.*

Know who these people are. And love them the way they deserve.

Not everyone in your life is temporary.

A few are as permanent as love is old.

EXCHANGE OF RINGS AND RING VOWS

Reading - Tom Budd

Mi gerddaf gyda thi - author unknown

Mi gerddaf gyda thi dros lwybrau maith,

A blodau, cân a breuddwyd ar ein taith;

Ith lygaid syllaf i a dal dy law:

Mi gerddaf gyda thi, beth bynnag ddaŵ.

Mi gerddaf gyda thi pan fydd y lloer

Fel llusern yn y nen ar noson oer.

Addawaf i ti'n ghalon i yn llwyr:

Mi gerddaf gyda thi drwy oriau'r hŵyr.

Mi gerddaf gyda thi drwy weddill f'oes,

Pan fydd yr haul ar fryn neu'r dyddiau'n groes;

A phan ddaŵ'r alwad draŵ, pwy wyr pa awr,

Mi gerddaf gyda thi i'r freuddwyd fawr.

English translation:

*I will walk with you though the road be long,
And set forth with a flower, a dream, a song.
I take your hand, look in your eyes and know
I will walk with you anywhere you go.*

*I will walk with you when the full moon's light
Is like a lantern in the coldest night.
I promise you my heart, entire and all,
I will walk with you as the shadows fall.*

*I will walk with you all the time ahead,
On sunlit hills and when the sun has fled.
And when our call is heard, its hour unguessed,
I will walk with you through the lands of rest.*
