Poem: Meet You At The Gate

Read by Mia

A beautiful garden now stands alone,
missing the one who nurtured it,
but now she is gone.

Her flowers still bloom, and the sun it still shines,
But the rain is like tear drops for the ones left behind,
The weeds lay waiting to take the garden's beauty away,
But the beautiful memories of its keeper are in our hearts to stay.
She loved every flower, even some that were weeds.
So much love she would plant with each little seed,

But just like her flowers, she was part of God's plan.
So when it was her time, he reached down his hand.
He looked through the garden, searching for the best.
That's when he found her; it was her time to rest.
It was hard for those who loved her to just let her go,
But God had a spot in his garden that needed a gentle soul,
So when you start missing her, remember if you just wait,
When God has a spot in his garden, she'll meet you at the gate.
By Barbara Bailey

The Serenity Prayer

God, Grant me the serenity
To accept the things I cannot change;
Courage to change the things I can;
And wisdom to know the difference.

Farwell

We allow the body of Jackie to be cremated and to return to the earth that once sustained her.
We remember her and the life that once was.
We seek to accept life as it now is and we anticipate life as it will be.
Death cannot defeat love, and time cannot erase the memories and so Jackie lives on, heald by that love and rooted in those memories.
