Poems

I Am Not Sleeping by Roger McGough

I don't want any of that 'We're gathered here today to celebrate his life, not mourn his passing'.
Oh yes you are. Get one thing straight, you're not here to celebrate but to mourn until it hurts.

I want wailing and gnashing of teeth.
I want sobs, and I want them uncontrollable. I want women flinging themselves on the coffin and I want them inconsolable.

Don't dwell on my past but on your future.
For what you see is what you'll be and sooner than you think.
So get weeping. Fill yourselves with dread.
For I am not sleeping. I am dead.

If I should go by Joyce Grenfell

If I should go before the rest of you Break not a flower nor inscribe a stone Nor when I'm gone speak in a Sunday voice
But be the usual selves that I have known Weep if you must Parting is Hell
But life goes on
So sing as well
