

Phoebe & Theo

Saturday 21st October 2023

Shared vows

I vow to stand shoulder to shoulder with you all the days of my life. I vow to be your rock when you need me, and to reach out for your hand when I need you. I vow to be faithful to you.

Phoebe's vows

As your wife, I promise to make a life that embraces our families, so that we are a pillar to them and they are our foundation. I will share in your sense of duty and selflessness, so that you may always be led by the light of your conscience. I will make our marriage like a cool and shaded place under trees, where you may rest quietly, without judgment, and find peace

Theo's vows

As your husband, I promise to keep the flame of your curiosity. I will share in your joyfulness, in your delight in both the ordinary and the sublime. I will make our marriage like a fruitful orchard, where good things both old and new may grow in sun and rain, and where we too many be planted

