God Saw You Getting Tired
By Frances & Kathleen Ceolho

God saw you getting tired and a cure was not to be so he put his arms around you and whispered "come to me"

With tearful eyes we watched you and saw you pass away and although we love you dearly we could not make you stay.

A golden heart stopped beating, hard working hands at rest. God broke our heart to prove to us he only takes the best.

Poem of Mechanics

By Maya Anthony

In the shop, a rhythm beats, changing tools, hearts retreats, under cars, in greasy seats, Mechanics dance, never depletes.

Wrenches turn, bolts comply With every twist, a satisfy sigh,
Metal and muscle under the sky,
Craftsmen's song, never shy.

Engines hum, a completed task,
In their hands, triumph unmask
Every repair, a success to bask,
In the symphony of their craft, we bask.

Appreciation

The family would like to thank you all for your kind support during this time of sadness.
