

Robbie Saddleton

19 June 1965 to 30 June 2024

Thank you for joining us to remember Robbie.

Robbie passed away in the early hours of Sunday 30 June, 2024
at the Phyllis Tuckwell Hospice, Camberley,

Robbie had been struggling with his health for some time.
At the hospice he was able to make decisions around his end of life care and the staff were amazing.

He requested that he be cremated without a ceremony.

Robbie asked that his ashes be taken to Effingham Cricket Club.

This was a place that held fond memories for him.

He spent many weekends there growing up and, more importantly, found comfort there in later life.

We took his ashes there today and we have purchased for the club,
a bench in his name, for others to sit, enjoy a game,
and find some peace.

We would like to thank:

The brilliant staff at Phyllis Tuckwell for all their care and patience.

Paul, the Chairman at Effingham Cricket Club, for being so understanding, positive, and helpful.

And all his friends and family who sent messages of love and support or shared memories.

Particular thanks to Clare, Jeremy, Paul B, Vanessa, and Rick.

Heather and Claire

Nurturing plants others have discarded.

Growing something from seed.

Hated bureaucracy.

Hated being told what to do.

Hated waste.

Sometimes a twat.

Naked cartwheels.

Naked art.

Painting.

Work. Picking tomatoes. Landscaping. Warehouses. Care.

Most proud of the care.

Foraging, cooking, eating.

Putting together recipes in your head.

Buying the best herbs and spices.

Wine gums. Boiled sweets.

Buying biscuits for nurses.

Travel. India. Cuba. Italy. Asia. Vietnam.

Being a new version of yourself.

Or a true version of yourself with new people.

Talking to strangers.

Language. Learning as you go.

Writing stories on postcards.

Treading an uncommon path.

Going off radar.

Getting lost.

Doing things your way. x

With love
