POEM
"A Way Of Life" by Brian

*To live life in a city
For some is such a pity
For those of us, who live in row upon row
It's just a way of life and so it must go*

*There are those that live in houses
Quite content with their spouses
For me, I like the open spaces
We've got to quit the city rat-races*

*Joy for me, is the rocks and crags
Not the mountainous heaps of slag
Meadows and woods are for romping
Not concrete slabs, only fit for stomping*

BRIAN'S FINAL FAREWELL TO YOU ALL
Pavarotti - Nessun Dorma
