Poem By Brendan Wyre - Friend

*We all knew that Donal gave voice to Kavanagh, Yeats,
Others down the centuries confirmed as greats
And here am I trying to pay tribute in verse
Well if I'm bad, I could've been worse.
You always looked forward to seeing him again;
This is just one in a day of thanks we see
To a generous, honest, giving gift to many.
Who wouldn't want more time in his company?
But is a master storyteller's work ever at an end?
More than that, as a father, grandfather, friend?
Well I think he'll continue to be these,
Vivid, social. Would you agree?
I wouldn't put it past Donal.
Though our time together is now severed
To you, Donal, I send the best words for a teller:
From all here and elsewhere, you'll be forever remembered.*

Thomas Moors – Shout at Cancer

*May the road rise to meet you, may the sun shine warm upon your face, may the rains fall
upon your fields, and until we meet again,
may God hold you in the hollow of His hand.*
