

In loving memory of

Mary Reid

1st January 1944 - 22nd October 2024

Breakspear Crematorium, Breakspear Road, Ruislip, HA4 7SJ

My mother's sleep is deep as drifts of snow, Snow-white the moon which plays with rays like fingers, Smooths and lingers on her white sheet. The slow Touch and flow is magic, stirring earth from night Towards day, from sleep to life. A tide sheering, Soaking currents below stroke, tug. Atoms disunite In dark earth floating free; grains that sleep unseen Conjoin. My mother's bones are green blades rising With the light. They will be snowdrops soon, snow-green.
